V. Conclusion

Section 211(o)(9)(B) of the CAA and 40 CFR 80.1441(e)(2) allow EPA to grant an extension of a small refinery's exemption based on a demonstration by the small refinery of a "disproportionate economic hardship" from compliance with its RFS requirements. Based on our analysis of all of the available information about (b) (4), and our consultation with DOE, EPA has concluded that (b) (4) will not experience "disproportionate economic hardship" in complying with 2015 RFS requirements. Therefore, EPA is hereby denying (b) (4) request for a temporary extension of its small refinery RFS hardship exemption for 2015.
